

Rappahannock County Public Schools Budget Factors

The Schools Our Children Deserve

We all want our children to attend schools that are well-resourced and able to provide reliable transportation, nutritious meals, quality instruction, and essential health services. Since the pandemic, our roughly 700 students in Rappahannock face more challenges than ever, from staff shortages, drops in academic achievement, and additional mental health needs. When looking at our current local spending, it's clear our budget comes up short in meeting the most pressing challenges our students and schools face today. Rappahannock can step up to fund our schools at levels that meet our students' needs and better reflect our capacity and commitment to our children.

Budget

In the 2022-2023 school year, Rappahannock County spent $20,037 per student, ranking us 11 out of 131 school divisions in the state. Yet, when adjusted for the high cost of living, the spending power drops to $17,851 per student and Rappahannock County ranks 12 out of Virginia's 131 school divisions.

Rappahannock has seen an increase in local per student spending of $3,002 or 25% between the 2014-2015 and 2022-2023 school years (adjusted for inflation).

Capacity and Effort

Virtually every locality in the state spends beyond what the state requires it to match (referred to as Required Local Effort) because the state vastly underestimates what it actually costs to run schools. In aggregate, divisions in the Northern Virginia region spent 132% above the Required Local Effort, but Rappahannock County spent 130%, which is just 2 percentage points below the Northern Virginia regional average. Rappahannock would need to spend $74,809 more annually to be at the average regional percent above the Required Local Effort.

Rappahannock County has capacity to do more to raise adequate revenue for its schools. The locality has one of the top revenue capacity scores according to the Virginia Auditor of Public Accounts and a low level of fiscal stress. Rappahannock County's property tax effort is 33% below the average regional rate.

A one penny property tax increase in Rappahannock County would raise approximately $200,000 annually.

Outcomes

Many students lost significant ground on state academic achievement between the 2018-2019 and 2022-2023 school years. Students in Rappahannock saw a drop in pass rates on the reading SOL test of 6.6% and 37.9% in math - among the largest declines in the state. Yet further disparities exist, with math SOL pass rates dropping 55.6% for economically disadvantaged students. Rappahannock must do more for its students who face significant barriers to education.

Staffing

Rappahannock had an average budgeted teacher salary of $67,077 in the 2023-2024 school year, which is $5,044 below the regional average. Adjusted for the relatively high cost of living in the locality, the average teacher salary drops to $59,758. With high salaries and lower cost of living in nearby communities, on top of a dwindling supply of graduates with teaching degrees, Rappahannock is not in a strong position to compete for high-quality educators in the future.
